WE PLEDGE ALLEGIANCE

I will pledge all my allegiance
To the red and white and blue
It's the flag of my own country
And I now my pledge renew
For it's more than just a symbol
It's the heart and life and soul
Of the land I love — under God above
It's America.

Some men become heroes in dying.
Others become heroes by living.
In either case — patriots are born of courage and faith.

Some men offer their blood.
Others offer their influence and their words.
They all pledge their hearts — and that's what allegiance is all about.

A FIRST at LSU-S

LSU-S held its first commencement exercises on May 15, 1975, at the Municipal Auditorium. The 223 graduates ranged in age from 19 to 75 years. Chancellor Donald E. Shipp presided over the ceremony and Dr. John Allen, president of Centenary College, addressed the graduates. This commencement marked a new dimension in higher education for North Louisiana.

SPECIAL GUESTS

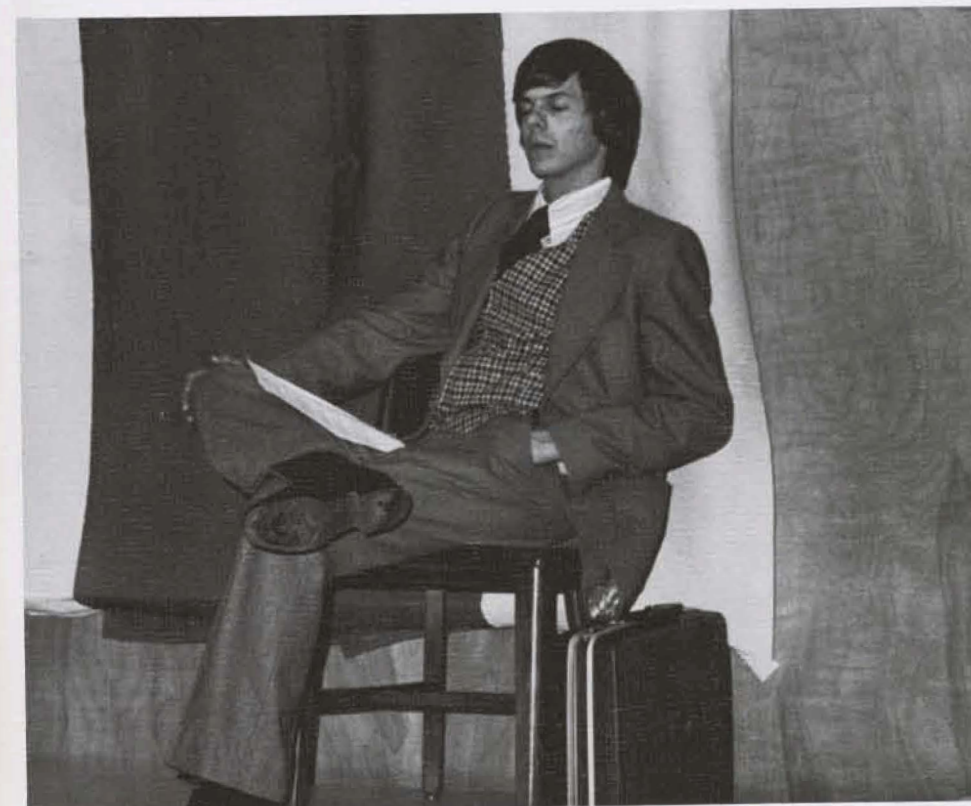

JOSEPH SPEAR

Joseph Spear, associate editor for columnist Jack Anderson, was a guest speaker for the Artists and Lecturers Committee. Mr. Spears presented findings of his investigations of government agencies including the FBI, the CIA, and the Secret Service, which uncovered many of the illegal activities. In speaking of his work, Mr. Spears stated, "It is our job to right these governments, to sometimes kick them into the sunlight, which is a marvelous disinfectant."

Know Your Candidates Forum

The Community Issues and Relations Committee of the Student Government Association, headed by Kenny Beauvais, conducted a "Know Your Candidates Forum." The purpose of the forum was to familiarize LSU-S students and the community about the candidates running for election on November 1. The forum was held on Thursday, October 23, from 1:00 until 6:00 P.M. in the Science Lecture Auditorium.

DAVID GRIMES

A guitar recital by master guitarist David Grimes was presented on November 18, and a workshop on classical guitar was held on November 17, by the SAB. Now a professor at California State University, Mr. Grimes credits Oscar Ghiglia as being the most influential person in his development as a guitarist. David Grimes has achieved fame as a solo artist in the U.S. and Mexico. His music covers five centuries, from Sylvius Leopold Weiss to Mario Castelnuovo Tedesco.

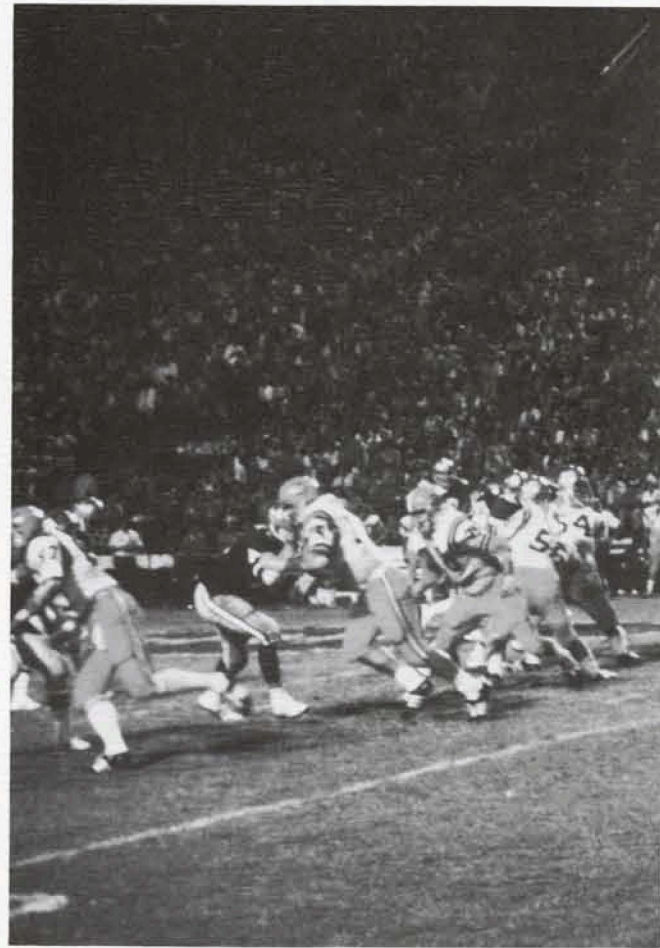

LSU VS RICE

The LSU Tigers and the Rice Owls met for the 45th time, and for the first time at State Fair Stadium, on September 27, before a record crowd of 42,000. LSU, leading the series 27-12-5, took the lead early and held on for a 16-13 win over the Houston team. Charlie Mac's leading rusher, Terry Robiskie, scored twice, both on two-yard runs. LSU linebacker, Terry Hill, nailed the Rice quarterback for a safety. Scorers for Al Conover and his Rice team were flanker Doug Cunningham on a twelve-yard pass, and Alvaro Arenas with two field goals.

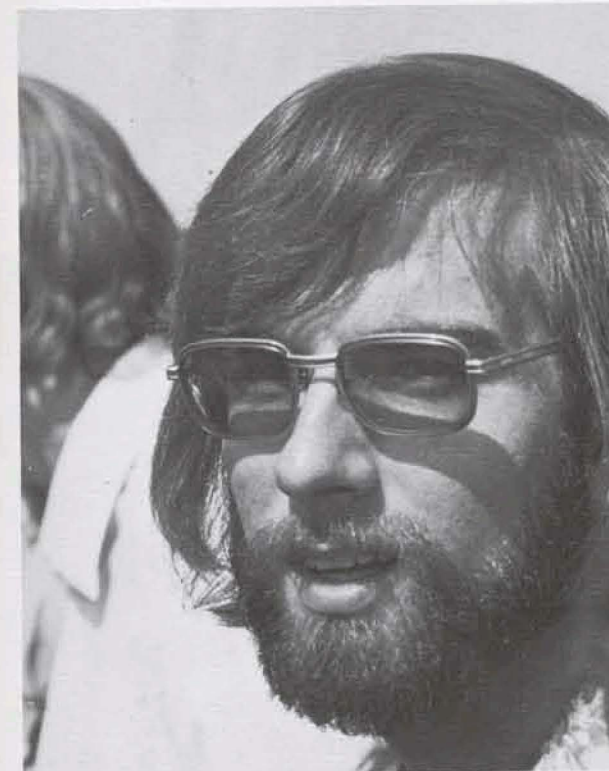

Senior John Smith and his gang root the Tigers on to a victory.

Steamer Mania caught on in Shreveport this season with total public support for the club. Some of the more exciting games were the 41-31 victory over San Antonio, and the 32-25 win against Hawaii. On-set with a slow beginning, fans began to turn out in numbers of more than 20,000. The WFL folded on October 22, thus ending the Shreveport club. Edd Hargett and Jim Nance were both in second place in the League in passing and rushing, respectively. Many fans have taken on the task of clearing up the club's debts through various fund raising projects. The Steamer football team was great while it was here. The club will be greatly missed.

State Fair

The 70th Louisiana State Fair completed its ten-day run, from October 17th to the 26th, with a total attendance of 581,000. This was 31,000 less than the 1974 State Fair. This year's Fair featured the Championship Rodeo, Junior Livestock Show, rides, Stock Car races, and the annual Louisiana Tech-Northwestern football game.

Take a Little Ride — Make

Louisiana Downs

The Louisiana Downs season is said to be "more wonderful the second time around." It has had more than 135,000 people entering the doors of its $26 million structure, having an average of 5,646 as a daily attendance figure. The highest attendance during the current season at the Downs is 12,484 on opening Sunday, August 31, while the lowest figure on record is 2,043. On the way to becoming one of the most financially sound racetracks in the nation, the Downs is said to be only two or three years away from being a major track and one of the biggest tourists attractions in the country.

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL

Intramural flag football began its season on September 5, with eight teams in the line up. The season concluded on October 1, with all but two teams eliminated. On this day Greenway Gang and Trees met for the championship. Trees took an early lead of 14-0, the Gang fought back to get ahead 15-14, but in the end, the Trees came out on top 21-15. Trees ended the season first (5-0), Kappa Alpha finished second (4-1), and the Greenway Gang took third (4-2).

The LSU-S intramural football team went to Baton Rouge on November 22, for the state tourney. The LSU-S team was cursed by a strong rush and an unorganized team which led them to defeat in two straight games. In the first game the team was beaten by Northeast State 32-14. In a consolation game LSU-S was defeated by Grambling 22-12. Loyola University took winning honors in the tournament.

On October 3, three sororities battled for honors in flag football. In the first game Delta Delta Delta defeated Zeta Tau Alpha 34-0, with Sharon Rasberry scoring five touchdowns. In the second game Alpha Phi's Denise Allen scored a touchdown for an eventual win over Delta Delta Delta with a score of 8-6.

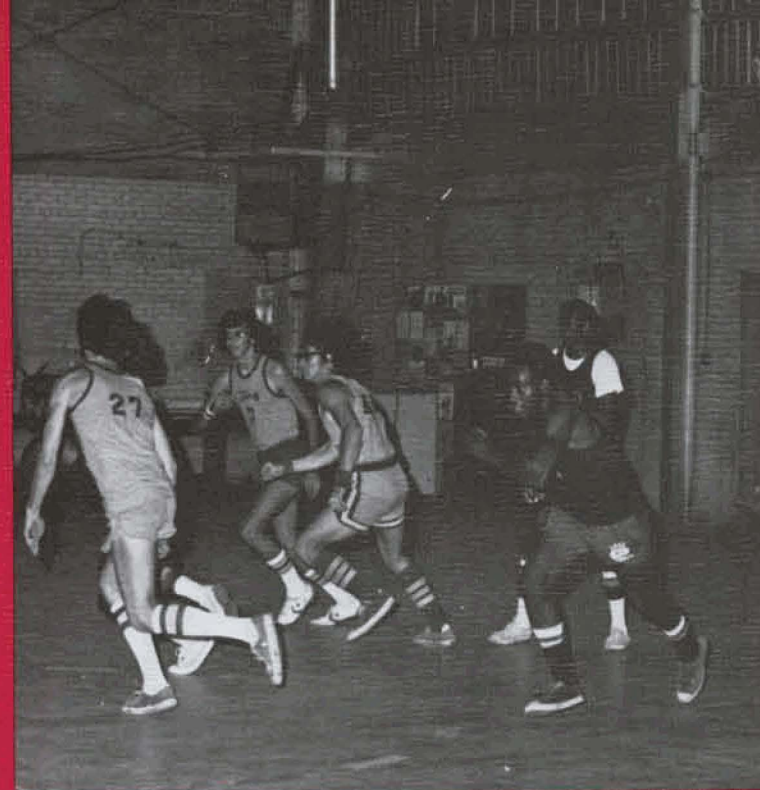

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

A total of ten teams were on the roster for intramural basketball which began on October 16, and concluded in an action-packed game on December 3. The Zig-Zags were 4-0 near the end of the season, looking for a tie with the Misfits who were also 4-0. The Zagger's were stopped by Re Organization 41-39, but they fought back in a second game to win 52-50, matching them against the Misfits for the championship. In the heated final which was filled with disputable officiating, the Zig-Zags won 47-45 in the last minute for the championship.

GOLF AT LSU-S

SHORTS IN THE SHACK

There were seven quality movies presented in the shack on Mondays. The movies featured the Marx Brothers, Three Stooges, Roy Rogers, Laurel and Hardy, and Flash Gordon. The SAB also presented Ripley's "Believe it or not" shows. Mitchell Sanders worked the projector and made sure the movies were shown on time.

Christmas 1975

Christmas time "1975" rolled around and LSU-S was ready. The SGA provided for a tree in the mall and solicited students and organizations to help with the decorating. The SLTA had their own tree which brightened up the second floor of the Library building and incited the Christmas spirit in everyone. There was a food collection by LSU-S students known as "concerned Christians," to distribute the food to the poor. Delta Omicron Mu (DOM) placed decorated boxes in all campus buildings for the "Toys for Tots" drive. These were also distributed to the poor.

MERRY

PLACES IN OXFORD

On July 7th, of last summer, a group of faculty members and students left for a 45 day stay in Oxford. While in Oxford they resided at Queen's College, each person having his own private room, and the group having its own chapel and dining hall. Near the college was River Cherwell where many of the students enjoyed punting (boating).

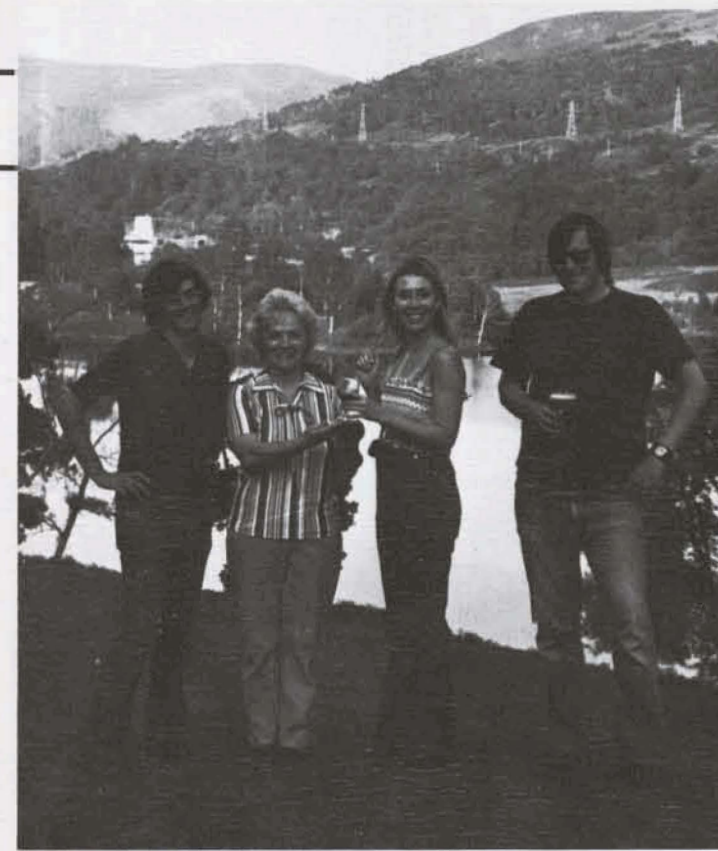

While in England they went on many excursions. Three days were spent in London going to plays, museums, the Parliament, and a tour of Canterbury. There were also weekend trips to Wales, the Lake District (home of Wordsworth), and Langharne (home of Dylan Thomas).

Chancellor and Mrs. Shipp went on the trip and had an evening with Lord and Lady Blake, the Provost of Queen's College, which was founded in 1341. The group saw Shakespeare's "As You Like It," in their own garden at the college. They also attended lectures by Oxford professors on many English writers and on English society. Several of the lectures were on Joseph Conrad, Thomas Hardy, and James Joyce.

There were a variety of people that went on the trip, graduates and undergraduates. They are: Chancellor and Mrs. Donald Shipp, Marilyn Gibson (coordinator), Ann Terzia, John Baldwin, Florence Barton, Victoria Brock, Caroline Currier, Lucille Douglas, Byron Edmonds, Kim Foster, Betsy Fowlkes, Benjamin Gibbens, Alice Gibson, Susanne Goode, Brenda Hall, Ulna Jackson, Roy Jambor, Francis Kalmbach, Rabbi and Mrs. David Lefkowitz, Bill Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Lyons, Barbara McJunkins, Scott Mighell, Pete Nowinson, Father Kenneth Paul, Ginger Roos, Bernice Sears, Kay Texada, Paul Waddle, Jane West, Paula Williamson, Virginia Cathey, Jim Creighton, and Mrs. Aara Goodman.

SPECTRA

Spectra, the official LSU-S literary-artistic magazine, is published and distributed free to all students in the spring semester of each year. A descendant of Narcissus, Spectra has broadened its range to include the widest variety of poetry, fiction, non-fiction, foreign language works, photography, and art. Officially, its purpose is to provide an opportunity for students and faculty to publish original and creative works. In fulfilling this primary function, Spectra also attempts to capture the spirit of the age in which we live and, in so doing, to clarify our vision of modern experience. As an incentive for students to submit works, Spectra '76 sponsored the First Annual Spectra Literary Competition, awarding cash prizes to first place winners in prose and poetry categories.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS AND ACTIVITIES

The intramural sports program at LSU-S is designed to offer opportunities for exercise, competition, and fellowship. The intramural program is in large measure planned and administered by students and is sustained by the interest and dedication of the students. Activities planned by the Intramural Department are designed to meet the needs of all LSU-S students, regardless of age, sex, or ability. Ability is not as important as desire to participate. Both individual and team competition is offered in the intramural program. The team effort expended is rewarded by opportunities to meet new friends as well as strengthen clubs, fraternities, sororities, and other organizations. Opportunities to develop individual leadership and skills are offered to students who desire to officiate various sports or become an Intramural Assistant.

BAGATELLE

The Bagatelle is the LSU-Shreveport yearbook. The 1976 Bagatelle editor and staff have tried to make this year's yearbook a contribution to the Bicentennial year. The Bicentennial theme was used, but only in relation to the students at LSU-S. What good is having a yearbook, if you can't include the theme with the main purpose of the yearbook — you? There are some people who will say that the Bicentennial theme has been used too much already, but it only comes once in two-hundred years. This book has been put together by many concerned students and students who wish to see LSU-S continue to grow and to be a university for every student to be proud of. The staff hopes that this book will help bring you closer to our great school. We also hope that this book will help remind you of how lucky we are to live in such a beautiful country. Turn back to the opening section of this book and be thankful for all the freedoms that we as Americans do possess.

Almagest

August — May, 1975-76

Vol. IX. Numbers 1 — 25

The Almagest, the official newspaper of the student body of Louisiana State University in Shreveport provides information for students, faculty-staff, and the University community. It also serves as a laboratory where students gain practical experience in the production of a newspaper.

Housed within the Department of Communications, the Almagest supplies timely news, editorial, feature, entertainment, and photo coverage. Most articles are written by the Almagest staff. The newspaper also accepts contributions from its readers, as well as subscribing to The Intercollegiate Press and the United Feature Syndicate.

Staff members are involved in nearly all phases of putting the newspaper together. Most photos, copy, and art work are done by the staff members. The staff writes, edits, and proofs copy. Staff photographers are responsible for taking, developing, and printing photos for each week's edition. An advertising manager handles the selling and display of ads. The staff is involved in producing the newspaper until it is camera-ready. Offset printing of the Almagest is done by the Bossier Tribune.

The Almagest is published weekly during the fall and spring semesters, except during exam periods and holidays. A Summer Edition Almagest was also begun last summer session. Each week's edition is usually eight pages with an expanded 12-page edition scheduled for the spring semester. Responsibility for content of the publication lies mainly with the Editor.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

As delineated in the Student Handbook, "The Student Government Association is an elective governing body which represents all students attending LSU-S." Composed of 28 Senators from the 5 colleges and a President, Vice-President, Treasurer, and 2 Executive Secretaries, the 1975-76 SGA has concentrated its efforts toward improving and enhancing student life at LSU-S by implementing a Book Referral/Exchange Program, providing interior decor for the temporary Union Building, participating in contractual efforts to provide improved food service. The SGA has also devoted much time and energy to overhauling its own organization by promoting needed Constitutional revision; updating and streamlining its Administrative and Executive arms in order to operate more efficiently, effectively, and economically. The SGA sponsored public service projects such as the "Know Your Candidate Forum." Other community projects were the participation of LSU-S in the La. State Fair. A new undertaking by the SGA was the decorating and lighting of an outdoor Christmas tree in the Mall. In celebrating the Bicentennial year, the SGA, in the name of the student body, has purchased and donated to the University a handsome set of Ceremonial flags. The first major undertaking of the SGA in consent with the Administration, has been to lay the financial groundwork for the procurement of a student recheck for use by all student activities at LSU-S.

Tri-Delta knows the meaning of sisterhood.

Delta Delta Delta was founded Thanksgiving Eve, 1888, by Sarah Ida Shaw, who realized that a fraternity could meet a great need among college women. These needs, as seen by Tri-Delta, include a broadening of a collegiate's life through various activities including social, moral, spiritual, and intellectual aspects. Yet Tri-Delta's guidance does not end with college graduation. Through an excellent alumnae program Tri-Delta exerts a continuing influence upon its members.

Delta Delta Delta, realizing that in order to gain true benefits of fraternity membership, one must give of herself, actively sponsors two philanthropies. The first is scholarship offered on both a national and local level. The second philanthropy is cancer research for children, which is celebrated nationally by what is known as Sleigh Bell Day.

Tri-Delta offers to its members a beginning rich with tradition and a heritage of truth and friendship. Each member is challenged to be her unique self, while contributing to that heritage with loyalty, excellence, and love.

Dressed appropriately, Zeta Sorority was one of the bicentennial contest winners.

Zeta Tau Alpha was founded on October 15, 1898, at Longwood College in the state of Virginia as a National Woman's Fraternity. Throughout the years it has grown to be one of the largest fraternities in existence, with chapters in both the United States and Canada.

The insignia and creed symbolize the purpose of the fraternity. They are a heritage from the past, significant because of what Zeta Tau Alpha has believed and has become. Its dedication is to learn and experience those things which will brighten college years and lives through a combination of friendship, fun, and community service. Zeta Tau Alpha has achieved its goal through a program of well-rounded activities embraced by all members, a program which somehow combines friendship, fun, and service to others.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Alpha Phi, the first international sorority to come to LSU-S, offers to college women a platform for growth during the years and on throughout life. To Alpha Phi's everywhere are the open gates of entertainment, helpfulness, achievement, and friendship. Founded on Sept. 30, 1872, at Syracuse, New York, Alpha Phi has reached a membership span of 70,000. Cardiac aid is Alpha Phi's national philanthropy of which two million dollars has been raised for the cause. Alpha Phi has established a permanent fund for cardiac aid at the LSU Medical School. The 1975-76 year started with a week full of rush parties and the pledging of 11 girls. In October, the Phi's were No. 1 in the Powderpuff Football Tournament and were active in volleyball intramurals. On January 10, 1976, eight more girls were initiated into the fraternity. In Alpha Phi's traditions, its history, and its sisterhood the growing bonds of friendship develop and continue throughout a lifetime.

There is a newly chartered chapter of Delta Sigma Phi that resides at LSU-S. The chapter is part of an International Social College Fraternity that was founded in 1899 at the City College of New York. We are unique, however, because we have become the first National Social Fraternity for men to have colonized at LSU-S and to be chartered. Over the past two years we have had alumni dinners, service projects, and initiations. One other segment of Delta Sig worth mentioning is the Little Sisters of the Nile. These girls have taken interest in helping us with our parties and various service projects.

We would cordially welcome those of you who do not know much about fraternities to come and meet us at LSU-Shreveport. The past year has been a busy one for us in intramural sports and the community. We won the fraternity football championship by a score of 14 to 0 and are very proud of the title. Our goals for this year are to become KA actives and become chartered. We also seek to live up to the ideals of KA by living as gentlemen — but still being able to do a little “rebel rousing.” We also hope to soon be able to purchase a house where we can display the traditional cannon, representing our defense of the South. This past year we have been active with the March of Dimes as we worked a mobile coke booth during their '75 Walkathon. Academically, we rank high on the honor roll and you can see how high each semester. Last, but not least, to stress our brotherhood, we have had several pledge meetings to work out our problems and strive to grow as a chapter.

DOM

Delta Omicron Mu, Affectionately called the "Dirty Ole Men," was organized in 1969 on the LSU-S campus as a civic, academic, and social readjustment program for the returning veteran. So successful were the efforts of D.O.M., Louisiana Tech established a charter in 1970 and LSU-Baton Rouge in 1974. Through Dynamic Leadership and hard work on part of all its membership, D.O.M. is continuing to be the campus leader in activities.

Perennially, D.O.M. collects toys for the "Toys for Tots" campaign and books for bedridden Vets of the V.A. Hospital. During the spring semester of 1976, D.O.M. spearheaded, along with other groups, LSU-S's first formal. But the "Firsts" don't stop there.

Recognizing the need for sexual Equality, D.O.M. has expanded its prerequisites to accept women. Only one question is left to be resolved. How can D.O.M. now call themselves the "Dirty Ole Men?"

SLTA

The LSU-S Chapter of the Student Louisiana Teachers' Association is a professional organization that offers direction to future teachers in the areas of personal and professional growth. The organization, now in its third year, is continuing its membership growth.

This success is the result of teamwork between a dedicated faculty advisor, Dr. Virginia Eddleman, a diligent Dean, Dr. Bobby Tabarlett, a faithful hard working slate of officers, President Paul Akers, Vice-President Dominic Salinas, Secretary Ann Bennett, Treasurer Dianne Greenlee, Historian Rebecca Roberts, and a wonderful group of enthusiastic club members.

Throughout the year SLTA hosted a variety of speakers who discussed concepts and problems in education today and other items of interest to the future teachers. Many members were also able to participate in both the LTA and the SLTA Conventions both hosted in Shreveport. SLTA as an organization provides those in the field of education an opportunity to share experiences of consequence to them as professionals.

Since the early years of LSU-S, Sigma Alpha Upsilon Psycholinguistic Service Fraternity has been serving LSU-S and the community of Shreveport. Sigma Alpha Upsilon is gaining a reputation as the helping hands of LSU-S, and the "Let's Play Like" children's plays because of the two divisions of the organization. The Helper's Division is volunteer service done by its members. The Players Division is the other division of SAU and it has gained a reputation that is even more widespread than that of the Helper's Division. With SAU's total enrollment of approximately fifty members and pledges, we, as members, hope to continue our aim — that of giving of ourselves through service.

The purpose of the LSU-S Agriculture Club is to promote more interest and participation in the varied aspects of modern agriculture and to fulfill the interest of students interested in the different areas of agriculture. The first activities of the club included field trips to area farms, ranches, riding clubs, and the Red River Experimental Station. These trips are designed to teach the members new techniques in raising and selecting plants and animals, as well as understanding the jobs of people in the agriculture field.

BIOLOGY CLUB

Lambda Sigma Upsilon is an informative and educational organization which offers valuable experience to the student who wants to become more aware of the natural world around him. The club was formed in 1967 and has since become one of LSU-S's most active organizations. Its goals are to promote widespread understanding of scientific truth to broaden the scope of classroom education, to assist in the collection of specimens for the Life Sciences Museum, and to preserve the environment. The Biology Club is funded by membership dues and solicitation of donations from area businesses and civic groups. The money is used to fund trips and purchase required equipment.

Eta Sigma Gamma, the Allied Health Science Club of LSU-S, was formed in the spring of 1973 and has grown to become one of the largest organizations on campus. Throughout the year, we have had many different speakers to talk to our club on topics from high blood pressure to opinions on abortion. Membership is open to all science majors who intend to enter a medical-oriented profession and hold a 2.0 or better average. The dues are three dollars with a two dollar initiation fee.

The LSU-S Math Club, better known by its official name "The Linear Transformations," is an idealized society whose main purposes are to provide enlightenment and to further interest in mathematics. The club was established to better the relations between student and faculty members, and to allow club members to develop leadership abilities.

During the course of the school year, the club sponsors lectures on topics of mathematical interest, tutoring services for math students, the weekly BRAINTEASER contest, and provides information on graduate work in mathematics to interested individuals. The club frequently functions as a social group, with tours of various computer complexes, parties, dinners, and assorted gatherings. Though basically small, the Math Club has always been a close-knit group. Members not shown: Pam Bailey, Philip Barbour, Winnie Chalmiers, Robert Cody, Raymond Collins, Janet Denhollen, Bob Gibson, Ken Hartley, Colleen McCole, Charlotte Montesano, Randall Mott, Michael Norton, Nancy Roberson, Michael Smith.

The Student Activities Board is established as a student-staff partnership to support the purpose of the LSU-S University Center (projected for 1978), which shall be accomplished by planning and executing out-of-class recreational, cultural, service, and social programs for the primary use of the student, faculty, and staff at LSU-S. The administration of the SAB is carried out by the students themselves. This organization strives to maintain the total union concept, always keeping in mind that the emphasis is always to be on a complete, well-rounded program that emphasizes quality rather than quantity.

Out-of-class education will be promoted while serving the commuter student. The SAB programs for both the majority and minority groups on campus, always keeping the development of the individual student foremost. Active involvement in maintaining the aesthetic values and general beautification of the campus and projected University Center is also a role of the SAB as is interaction between members of the LSU-S University community.

Presenting the
1975 Spring
Initiates

Alpha Sigma Omicron, the LSUS honor society, is dedicated to maintaining high ideals of leadership and scholarship in our university. It encourages these qualities by awarding honorary membership to those students who demonstrate excellence in their individual fields of study. Students nominated for these awards are required to have at least thirty semester hours of credit and maintain a 3.5 overall grade point average. An initiation ceremony in honor of the new members is held each spring semester. Last year, for the first time, the ceremony was held at Morrison's Cafeteria, thus marking the beginning of a new tradition — the annual initiation banquet.

In the spirit of academic encouragement, Alpha Sigma Omicron has been consciously evolving into a service-oriented organization. The university administration has responded eagerly to the honor society's desire to serve and has extended to it the privilege of participating in the Honors Day Convocation and ushering at the LSUS graduation ceremonies.

Alpha Sigma Omicron is reaching out to the students of LSU-S by offering free tutoring in any subject on a weekly basis and through donations to the library. These gifts include $250 for the purchase of microfilms on which back issues of newspapers are permanently preserved, and $100 for the purchase of books.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

Psychology is a growing science of diverse endeavors, with ongoing research resulting in a constant gain of knowledge. Therefore, the Psychology Club must serve many functions. It informs the members of the current developments. This is accomplished through field trips to mental health institutions and through professionals giving guest talks, such as Dr. Barbara Zimmerman who spoke on "Language Development" and Dr. Mark Vigen on "Organic Brain Dysfunction." The club provides an environment that encourages students to share their thoughts and ideas concerning the various aspects of psychology.

CANTERBURY CLUB

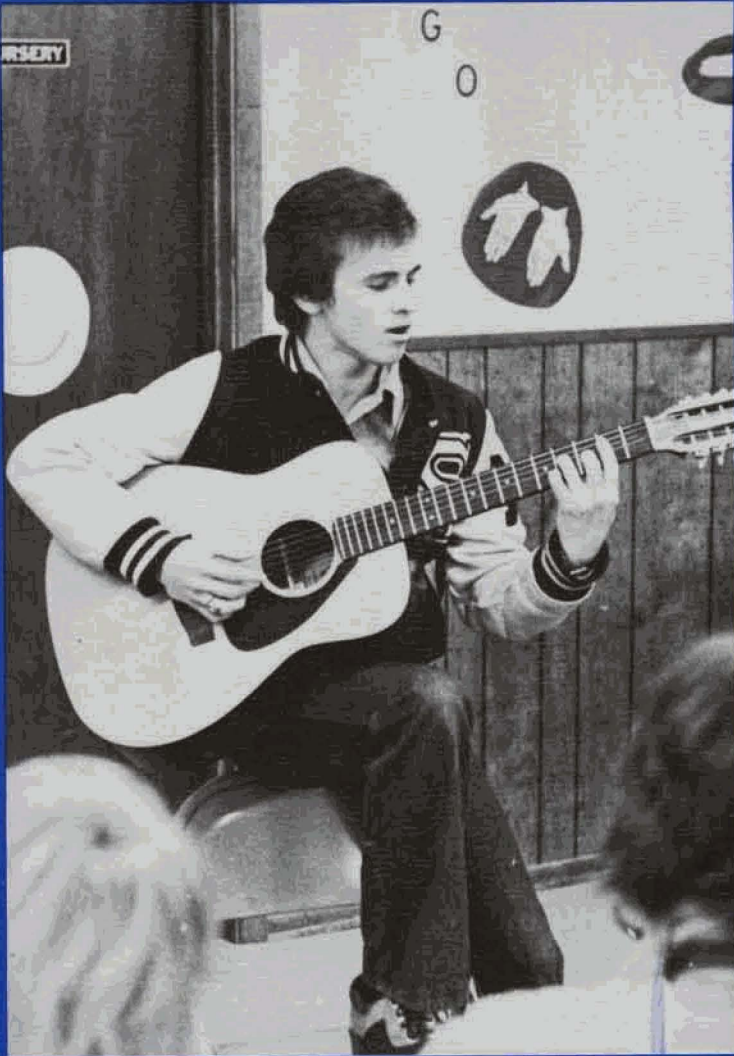

A recent development at LSU-S has been the combined meetings of the Episcopal Roman Catholic and the Methodist students and faculty. The purpose of this is to promote Christian unity and understanding. The group meets on Thursdays for lunch and discussion. During Christmas, the organization took part in the campus-wide food drive for the needy. Membership is open and determined by participation.

Its philosophy is simple and straightforward. Students attending a university are searching for truth. Because God is the source of truth, a Christian, as well as an academic perspective, is necessary to realize the ultimate purpose of higher education. This is the philosophy of Baptist Student Union, the first organization established at LSU-S, and a group which is steadily growing in attendance and participation.

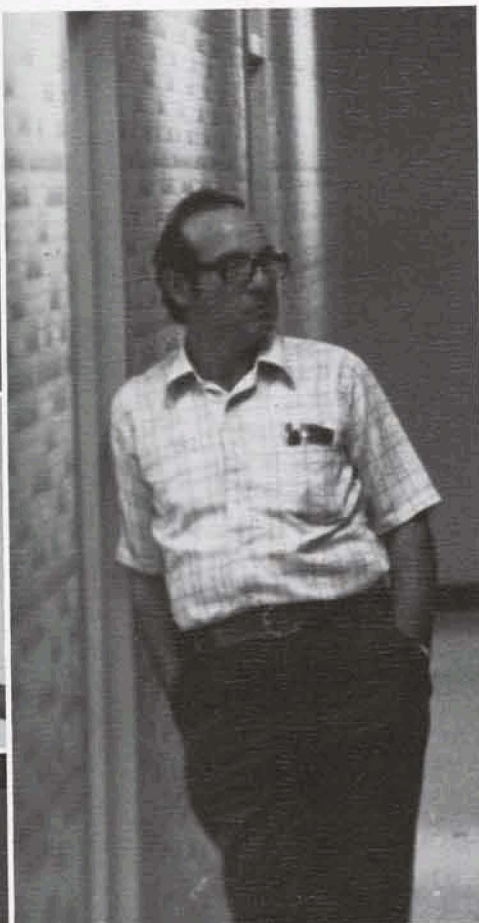

BSU offers three services in one: Acting as a fellowship of students, providing a program for students, and finally, having students become actively involved in both club and community activities. The latter goal has become a distinct reality, as students attending BSU have aided in such diverse projects as serving water at the Louisiana State Fair and assisting in the Sunday morning worship service at Confederate Memorial Center.

Additionally, students may serve as summer missionaries, traveling to different parts of the nation, or even the world, working within communities to help spread the message of Christ.

Locally, BSU provides lunch and fellowship for university students every Wednesday. Bible studies, parties, retreats, conventions, and a spring banquet help round out the organization's offerings. Baptist Student Union — Combining friendly fellowship with deeper insights into "higher" education.

 we did!

Now that you have read this book, I hope that you can identify with at least a few of the ideas and memories. It certainly will not make a difference in the way you live your life, but it might help you find something you never noticed or forgot. If your picture is out of focus, or your name is spelled wrong, I am extremely sorry. Many times we were uncertain, but I am sure of one thing: all the lost sleep, the many hours, and the endless anxieties will have all been worth it, if you can become a part of this book.

I would like to thank the following people: our advisor, Dr. Milton Finley; our Taylor representative, Chuck Fowler; our Bagatelle staff, Jeff McKinnon, Rodney Watson, Ken Jones, Philip Burns, Mark Elfervig, Becky Hubbard, Monique Kolonko, and Natalie Williams; Almagest fall editor, Randy Griffith; Almagest spring editor, Garrett Stearns; and the Almagest photographers for all their help and the many long hours.

Marilyn L. Kolonko
Editor-in-chief
